

Welcome Miss Jennifer!

It is with great pleasure that we announce the appointment of new teacher Jennifer D'Eath who will join Discovery Preschool in September. Passionate about seeing and appreciating the world through the child's eyes, Miss Jennifer is looking forward to sharing the journey of exploration and discovery with the children through their Reggio-inspired project work.

Miss Jennifer

Jennifer honed her teaching skills working with young children at the Mount Royal University Preschool and Child Care Centre as well as at the Reggio-inspired St. Andrew's Preschool where she worked in a volunteer capacity.

With emphasis on following the interests of her students, Jennifer embraces the role of teacher as researcher and is excited to add further inspiration to the preschool environment with artifacts and books that spark the children's innate curiosity and desire to learn. She also hopes to bring a stronger connection to nature and the community both in and outside the classroom. Jennifer has a particular interest in child and youth human rights and sees herself as not just a teacher but also as an advocate and support for children and their families.

Jennifer is a graduate of Mount Royal University where she earned a Bachelor of Applied Child Studies, an interdisciplinary degree that focuses on a variety of areas, including early childhood education, social work, mental health and psychology. A dedicated lifelong learner, Jennifer has also earned a certificate in Children and Youth Human Rights, a diploma in Business Administration and a certificate in Public Relations, all from Mount Royal University.

In her free time, Jennifer is an avid swimmer and also loves photography. She and her boyfriend Mark enjoy spending time hiking in the mountains with their dog Miikka (who is named after Calgary Flames goalie Miikka Kiprusoff!)

Please join us in welcoming Miss Jennifer to Discovery Preschool. We look forward to an incredible school year with Jennifer and Ana working in a dynamic and collaborative relationship together with the children and parents of our preschool community.
